BRENTANO™

VIDA COLLECTION

TEXTILES + WALLCOVERINGS

With riveting selections and colorways, the Brentano Design Studio has mastered the movement of creating art out of everyday life.

“

The Vida collection celebrates our inspirations from ordinary things. The ability to see beauty in our daily lives is necessary for creativity.”

- IRIS WANG, FOUNDER/ARTISTIC DIRECTOR,

VIDA

The methodical ticking of a clock, the intricate tree bark observed on a morning walk, the dancing shadows cast into a room at sunset, our daily lives are a sounding board for inspiration. Brentano's Fall 2022 Collection Vida is the culmination of textures pulled from our everyday life and the prominent designs they subtly create as we move about our day.

Highlighting light and airy colorways, the collection features classic neutrals, warm greys, and soft reds throughout its 12 textiles and 2 wallcoverings. With selections for multiple market segments and applications, the collection is a luxury offering of performance fabrics with indoor/outdoor textiles, a hybrid polyurethane, and statement drapery. Two wallcovering selections round out the collection by adding refined textures for modern interiors.

Vida, meaning life, is inspired by the ebbs and flows of our regular routines and the patterns that infiltrate our days. Vida offers an in-depth look into life's stunning palette and sophisticated designs by turning down the noise from our often busy and chaotic schedules. Our lives are inspiring; the moments that fill them create beautifully orchestrated music. Vida pulls these moments, patterns, and movements together to create Brentano's thoughtfully curated Fall textile and wallcovering line.

The Foundation for the Vida Collection, Golden Hour, is a standout pattern created by compiling still photos and time-lapse videos of the sun casting shadows on foliage and windowpanes onto the carpet at Brentano's headquarters. Journal, a hybrid polyurethane with a 100% Silicone face, is a luxurious and supple textile selection that stays true to Brentano's mantra of beauty + performance. Rounding out the collection, sister fabrics Clockwork and Pendulum are sleek and sophisticated with a soft flannel face and a reversible back giving them versatility for both upholstery and drapery applications.
